FLATTENED — Jamie Gomez, standing, and Sergio Rizo work to inflate the tires on one of Canutillo ISD's buses. The air was let out of tires on 39 buses. Authorities think it might have been a homecoming prank by students in the district. Crime Stoppers has posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of those responsible for the vandalism.

CANUTILLO — With evidence it's gathered, the Sheriff's Department is hopeful that it will lead to arrests of the culprits who vandalized 39 school buses last week in the Canutillo ISD by deflating the tires.

"Right now we are analyzing the tapes from surveillance cameras," said Deputy Sheriff Jesse Tovar, public information officer for the department. Tovar indicated Monday that apprehension of the suspects will likely be aided by the fact that there is a $1,000 reward as a Crime Stoppers Crime of the Week.

Left behind and written in the dirt in the support services center yard where the buses were housed was the phrase "Class of 2009."

No charges have been filed, Tovar said.

Alfredo Vasquez, public information officer for the school district, praised the quick action of transportation and maintenance department who came to work at 5:45 a.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 1 to find the buses immobilized. "They didn't hesitate," he said.

"It would have been much worse if it hadn't been for the fast action of these people,"

29 candidates file for 12 school board seats

By Don Woodyard
Courier Staff Writer

EL PASO COUNTY — Only three of the six school districts in the Upper and Lower Valleys are holding elections on Nov. 4th.

But in those three, a whopping 29 men and women are vying for trustee positions in Canutillo, Clint and Fabens.

By far, the greatest interest/activity is in the Canutillo ISD where more than half of that number, 15, are on the ballot for four at-large positions. Five are in Clint and nine are seeking trustee office in Fabens.

"Normally we have five or maybe six running for office," says Alfredo Vasquez, public information for the district. Asked why there were so many seeking office this year, he speculated that it was because it has been three years since the last election.

"We are pleased that community members want to get involved and help us."

Art Gallegos, selected at random, is one of the 15 and was asked why he is running.

"I want to make things right for our kids," he said. "There are wrongs we need to correct. They (school board) are not transparent."

Pat Randleel, former mayor of Horizon City, is one of the five running for an at-large position on the Clint ISD school board. She said she is running because there is no one from Horizon City presently on the board. "This area is growing, and we need to be represented."

A fourth district, Tornillo ISD, cancelled its November election because only the three incumbents had filed for re-election. The recent restructuring of election schedules gave school boards flexibility as to when they want to have them.

The Anthony ISD will have its election for three positions in May of 2009. San Elizario's will be in May of 2010.

The San Elizario school district will not hold its trustees' election until May of 2010.

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month

By Christina Lindholm
Special to the Courier

As the nation marks the annual National Breast Cancer Awareness Month this October, the American Cancer Society (ACS) is encouraging women to fight breast cancer by taking charge of their personal breast health and supporting efforts against the disease. The Society is reminding women 40 and older about the importance of getting a mammogram annually to detect breast cancer in its earliest, most treatable stage. An estimated 182,460 new cases of invasive breast cancer are expected to occur among women in the U.S. in 2008, and about 40,480 deaths are expected.

Studies clearly show that early detection of breast cancer through mammography greatly improves treatment options, the chances for successful treatment and survival. Early-stage breast cancer typically produces no symptoms when the tumor is small and most treatable, so it is important that women follow recommended guidelines for finding breast cancer before the symptoms develop. On average, mammography will detect about 80 percent to 90 percent of breast cancers in women without symptoms.

"Survival rates for breast cancer are significantly higher when the cancer has not spread," said Kirsten Bruce, manager, health initiative field support, at the ACS. "Numerous studies have shown that early detection increases treatment options and can save lives. That is why it is so important for women 40 and older to

Anthony Lions Club joins global crusade to conquer blindness

By Alfredo Vasquez
Special to the Courier

Anthony Lions Club will participate in the Lions World Sight Day by collecting used eyeglasses and hearing aides from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday, October 11, at Sunland Park Mall.

Lions Club World Sight Day is a global vision initiative sponsored by Lions Clubs International and is held annually in October in an effort to raise awareness about sight-related issues.

Lions Clubs International is the world's largest service club organization, with more than 1.4 million members in more than 44,600 clubs in 189 countries and geographical areas. In addition to its efforts to combat blindness, the organization has also made a strong commitment to community service and helping youth throughout the world.

"The Anthony Lions Club is focused on providing eyeglasses for needy students in the areas of Anapra, Sunland Park, La Union, Chamberino, Berino, Anthony, and Chaparral."

All of these communities are in southern part of New Mexico. Yearly there is a demand for more service than we can provide," said Richard Medina, Anthony Lions Club president.

The Anthony Lions raise money through a variety of fundraisers, such as carnivals and a Las Vegas Night that is held yearly in March. The club meets on the first and third Wednesday of each month at the Red Rooster Café in Anthony, Texas.

"It is estimated that 40 million people around the world are blind. On Lions World Sight Day, the Anthony Lions will work in unison with Lions clubs around the world to educate millions of people on the importance of proper eye health care," Medina said.

For additional information please call (575) 469-0293.

Vision facts:

The World Health Organization has estimated that the number of blind people in the world could double in the next 25 years.

In the United States, approximately 750,000 people are blind and an additional 50,000 more will become blind each year, according to the National Federation of the Blind. Like most developed countries, glaucoma and diabetes are the leading cause of blindness in the United States.

On a worldwide scale, an estimated 75 percent of all blindness is found in Africa and Asia, according to the World Health Organization. In Africa, there are an estimated 500,000 new cases of cataracts each year, of which only one in ten is operated upon. In India, 80 percent of the blind suffer from cataracts, with more than 3.8 million new cases reported each year.

EL PASO COUNTY — West Texas Food Bank (WTFB), the Sun Bowl Association, and FirstLight Federal Credit Union have partnered for the second year to fight hunger by having a food drive contest. Any organization can join the contest that began Oct. 1 and runs through Nov 3. "Interested organizations can still participate and should contact us to make arrangements," said Siria Rocha, Marketing Director. The winning organization/business will honor the contest winner with a pre-built float displaying their name to commence the parade. Last year's food drive contest participants collected around 55,000 pounds, and this year our goal is to collect 75,000 pounds.

"Last year's food drive contest winner was El Paso Trench Safety who still gets phone calls from potential clients who saw their number on the food drive winning float," said Joe Daubach, Sun Bowl's Special Events Director. "We are seeing more and more people who need our help — many who are struggling with day to day expenses just to take care of the basics of life — food, clothing, and shelter," said Hyta Folsom, Executive Director WTFB.

In addition to the contest, volunteers will be collecting canned goods along the parade route on Thanksgiving day. To learn more about the programs of West Texas Food Bank, go to www.WTxFoodBank.org or call 595-1060.

Crime Stoppers

Somebody committed an intentional act of Criminal Mischief that resulted in canceling all school bus service in Canutillo, making this the Crime Stoppers “Crime of the Week.” On Wednesday morning, Oct. 1, at 6:00 a.m., employees of the Canutillo Independent School District arrived at the District’s Support Services Building, 7710 Cap Carter Road, to discover that somebody had flattened the tires of 39 District school buses overnight. This resulted in the cancellation of all school bus service for that morning. Investigators from the El Paso County Sheriff’s Office stated that the bus tires were not slashed, but the valve stems on the tires were purposely unscrewed, letting the air out. Though there was no overt damage to the buses, this act of Criminal Mischief interrupted all public transportation for the students that morning, causing a great deal of inconvenience. Although no suspects were identified, it appears likely that the culprits were students or former students because the culprits left a slogan in the dirt which read, “Class of 2009.” Last week was Homecoming Week at Canutillo High School, and in past years students have vandalized school district buildings and services during this time of year. If you have any information about this crime, please call Crime Stoppers of El Paso at 566-TIPS (8477) or submit your tip online at www.crimestoppersofelpaso.org. You will remain anonymous and, if your tip leads to an arrest, you may earn a cash reward up to $1,000.

Traffic watch

The El Paso Police Department has chosen “Following Too Close” as the traffic focus for the month of October. The traffic focus is designed to address a common traffic issue that is observed by our officers and that help contribute to collisions. The El Paso Police Department with the assistance of the news media provides the information to the public on these common traffic issues and explains the law so that drivers can avoid making those mistakes. In addition officers in the field will be paying extra attention to those particular violations that are the focus of the month. The Texas Transportation Code (545.062) states that a driver that is behind another vehicle will maintain an assured clear distance between the two vehicles, so that with the speed that they are traveling at, traffic, and road conditions the driver can stop safely without hitting the car in front or any other object or person on the road. The Texas Drivers Handbook defines following distances as: Following Interval — The time recommended to follow another vehicle in the intended path of travel. [To calculate your interval], select an object near the road surface. When the vehicle ahead passes that object, start counting “one thousand-one,” “one thousand-two,” etc., until the front of your car reaches that point. For speeds under 30 mph, the minimum time with good road conditions is two seconds. For speeds above 30 mph, maintain four seconds (more for adverse conditions) of following time. Developing a four second following interval is the best practice for a novice driver.

Manhunt

Raymundo Antonio Martinez is wanted by the Sheriff’s Department in connection with the murder Hector Longoria. On or about

The suspects kept the victim’s vehicle and they transported it to Mexico where they sold it to person(s) unknown. Martinez has previous arrests for Prohibited Weapons and Possession of Marijuana. UTEP Miners in tie for first in Conference USA

By Steve Escajeda
Special to the Courier

From the “where did this come from” department, the UTEP Miners won their second straight Conference USA game, 40-37, over Southern Mississippi in double overtime.

That means that UTEP, yes UTEP, is tied for the C-USA West Division lead at 2-0 with Tulsa.

Okay, Tulsa is 5-0 this year while the Miners are just 2-3, but in the biggest of big pictures, all that counts at this point are the conference games. And both UTEP and Tulsa are the current kings of the Western Division mountain — as crazy as that sounds.

But like I pondered in my opening, when did the Miners finally realize they could play good football?

If you remember — and it’s difficult to believe any of you UTEP fans could have forgotten — the Miners lost their first three games of the season. It looked like they’d be hard-pressed to break into the win column any time soon.

And after that humiliating 34-33 loss to the NMSU Aggies, there was real doubt the Miners would be able to beat anyone left on their schedule.

But the Miners have apparently ripped a mighty big branch off of that confidence tree because they now truly believe they can win every game they play.

And very often that’s half the battle.

After that 58-13 dismantling of Central Florida, Coach Mike Price and his players knew they could save their season with an improbable win on the road. The win at Southern Miss sets up an incredible scenario for UTEP’s homecoming week.

This Saturday night the Miners return home for the Tulane Green Wave. After winning a couple games they were supposed to lose, UTEP should walk away with a win this weekend to go to 3-0 in C-USA.

That’s not to say that Tulane will be a cake walk. The Green Wave gave both Alabama (lost 20-6) and East Carolina (lost 28-24) a good tussle. But they are coming off a surprising 44-13 home loss to Army.

After UTEP Athletics Director Bob Stull spent the last few weeks seeing empty Sun Bowl seats in his nightmares, the old football stadium should see a crowd of 45,000 or more this weekend. Of course a sellout is never out of the question.

If the Miners defeat the Green Wave and Tulsa knocks off SMU, the two 3-0 teams will meet the week after in Tulsa.

And let me tell you a little something about Tulsa. The undefeated Golden Hurricane scored 45 points in their first game of the season — that is the fewest points they’ve scored in a game this season.

They beat Alabama-Birmingham 45-22, North Texas 56-26, New Mexico 56-14, Central Arkansas 62-34 and Rice 63-28.

That 3-3-5 UTEP defense had better play like a 5-5-7 if they want to stop Tulsa’s offense.

But first things first. The Miners have a great chance to salvage a season that many thought was all but lost. Football is fun again in El Paso.

These young Miners are beginning to believe they can win. As fans, we should show them we believe as well.

The juice is bottled

It took 13 years to the day.

O.J. Simpson looked straight ahead while they verdict was read aloud in the courtroom. Guilty, guilty, guilty, guilty, guilty, guil... you get the idea.

Thirteen times in a row, the word guilty was read after every single count. And with every mention of the word, you could see the life, and dreams, and hopes, and any future tee times drain from his face.

And I’ve got to believe that about 93% of the United States loved every second.

One commentator put it so well over the weekend. He said it would be poetic justice if O.J. was put in a cell with a window that faced the golf course.

I really believe that some day, before he leaves this Earth, O.J. will admit to everyone that he did indeed commit the murders he was accused of.

Not that anyone really doubts it, but Simpson has a big mouth and an even bigger ego and just can’t help himself.

It’s been announced that O.J. will be kept away from the other inmates for his protection.

Personally, I don’t care what they do with him in prison, as long as he is kept away from society — and any golf courses.

God save the future Queen

Like seemingly every past presidential candidate in U.S. history — except George Washington — Sen. John McCain has vowed to “shake up Washington.”

(George Washington refrained from promising to “shake up Washington” on the advice of his politically astute wife, Martha, who thought it would confuse voters if her husband appeared to be running against himself. George agreed and thus the phrase “inside the beltway” was born.)

But unlike previous candidates, McCain has an asset that actually may allow him to fulfill his promise: his running mate, Gov. Sarah Palin.

In an address last June, Palin referred to the Iraq War as a “task that is from God.” No big news there. God often informs his servants on Earth when he’s ready to wage war.

But another statement makes it clear that Palin has a much tighter relationship with the Almighty than even George W. Bush.

Speaking about the multi-billion dollar Alaskan natural-gas pipeline project, Palin said, “God’s will has to be done in unifying people and companies to get that gas line built” — the first public announcement of God’s official position on the project.

Discerning God’s will on energy issues, even big ones such as the pipeline, can be difficult, since the Bible offers little direct evidence about the Almighty’s agenda, though natural gas company theologians often cite the Second Letter of Peter as providing implicit support.

(Oddly enough, in what is something of a theological conundrum, Satan is also believed to support the pipeline project. While attempts to reach the Prince of Darkness were unsuccessful, sources familiar with the Evil One’s thinking say that Satan is “firmly committed” to the pipeline and is even offering help to make sure the project remains environmentally friendly — another instance of Satan’s “go green” initiative. Detractors point out, however, that he could be lying because, after all, he is the Devil.)

Palin’s announcement, however, suggests not a close reading of the Bible, but a direct revelation from God.

No wonder McCain had a gleam in his eye when he said that with Palin’s help he was going to change Washington and cut the size of the federal government. Unlike past presidents, he’ll be able to call on an ally even more powerful than the lobbyists.

For too long, Republicans and Democrats have been locked in bitter partisan battle, resulting in gridlock.

But gridlock would disappear under Palin’s rule. Pronouncing her Doctrine of Vice Presidential Infallibility, Palin would simply supply legislators with God’s agenda on everything from health care to offshore drilling. (The Almighty is believed to be heavily in favor of offshore drilling.)

Soon, of course, both Congress and the Supreme Court would become redundant, as would all policy-making bureaucrats. Only those federal employees needed to carry out Palin’s — or God’s — plans would be required.

The only question would be, how long will we persist in insulting Palin with the lowly title of vice president before we drop to our knees and proclaim her as our Sovereign Queen.

In that case, I think all of us would know God’s will.

Buses

Vasquez pointed out. "They saved us a lot of problems."

Fortunately the tires had not been punctured, only the valve stems had been removed. While people were replacing the valve stems and re-inflating tires, calls were being made to school administrators and parents to alert them to the problem so that appropriate adjustments could be made in bus schedules.

Of the 5,800 students in the CISD, 4,600 ride buses.

Vasquez says priority was given to getting the special education buses ready first.

Despite the problems, Vasquez says the first buses were rolling out of the yard by around 6:15. By 9:15 all of the buses were back.

A survey of other school districts in the Upper and Lower Valley shows that, in recent memory, they have not experienced the same problem that the Canutillo district did. And the same went for graffiti problems.

Bobby Telas, security supervisor for the Fabens ISD, also says that school vandalism and graffiti are not problems in his area of the Lower Valley. One of the main reasons is that the school district and the community work together to eradicate the graffiti as soon as it occurs.

Paul Vranish, superintendent of the adjacent Tornillo ISD, says 100 security cameras in and around the school buildings "tend to discourage" acts of vandalism.

Cancer

get an annual mammogram."

The ACS recommends yearly mammograms and clinical breast exams for women 40 and older and a clinical breast examination at least once every three years for women between the ages of 20 and 39. The Society also recommends magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) for certain women at high risk. Women at moderate risk should talk with their doctors about the benefits and limitations of adding MRI screening to their yearly mammogram.

While we do not yet know how to prevent breast cancer, we do know that women who maintain a healthy weight, eat a well-balanced diet, and are physically active 45 to 60 minutes on five or more days of the week can reduce their risk of breast cancer. Also, limiting alcohol consumption can reduce breast cancer risk – two or more drinks a day may increase breast cancer risk by 21 percent.

The ACS and its partner advocacy organization, the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network (ACSCAN), continue to engage in activities to increase funding for the National Breast and Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program (NBCCEDP). This important program provides low-income, uninsured and underinsured women access to mammograms, Pap tests, follow-up care and treatment when needed. Current funding only enables the program to serve one in five eligible women ages 50 to 64 nationwide, and for the first time since the program's inception, fewer women are now being served due to flat funding rates and cuts in funding over the past five years.

This lifesaving program cannot be fully realized if eligible women can not get early detection tests due to insufficient funding. ACSCAN encourages anyone touched by this disease to let Congress know that support for the NBCCEDP is important and that an increase in funding for this program, to $250 million this year, is vital to its continuation. The faster members of Congress make their commitment of support, the better the program can serve more of our mothers, sisters, daughters and friends.
