NEWSBRIEFS

Free adult education

The El Paso Public Library offers free adult basic education classes at all of its facilities throughout El Paso. Classes include ESL, Citizenship and basic to advanced Computer. They also have online resources for GED. For more information on how to join, call the EPPL Literacy Hotline at 543-5494.

— Jack Galindo

Vendors wanted

The City of Socorro is looking for vendors to participate in the 3-day Fiesta Del Valle. This year the May 3rd and 5th celebration at BullDog Championship Park will commemorate The City of Socorro’s 365 Anniversary, Arts and Crafts and Food, vendors are encouraged to call Yazmin Quesada at 915 858 2915 for more information.

— Dave Garcia

MS auction

Blanca Borja from Horizon’s National Self Storage and the Eastlake Lions Club are inviting the community to help fill a 10’ x 20’ storage unit with gently used electronics, furniture, household goods, jewelry, etc. (No used clothing.) The items will be auctioned off at the end of March with all proceeds going to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Donations can be dropped off at National Self Storage, 490 N. Kenazo in Horizon from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. For more information call Blanca at 317-7517.

Easter service

The Horizon Kiwanis Club will hold the 38th Annual Community Easter Service on Sunday, March 31. The service will be at the Oz Glaze Center, 13969 Veny Webb in Horizon at 7 a.m.

— Ann Miller

Efficient energy

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has recognized El Paso Electric with a 2013 ENERGY STAR Partner of the Year Award for its contributions to reducing greenhouse gas emissions by delivering energy efficiency information and services to its customers. This is the second year that El Paso Electric is a recipient of the ENERGY STAR Partner of the Year Award. El Paso Electric’s will be recognized at an awards ceremony in Washington, D.C. on March 26, 2013. The ENERGY STAR Partner of the Year Awards for Energy Efficiency of organizations in recognition of their efforts to improve energy efficiency and reduce pollution. Award winners will be recognized at an awards ceremony in Washington, D.C. on March 26, 2013.

See BRIEFS, Page 3

---

HRMUD buys Emerald Springs Golf Course

By Robert Grijalva Special to the Courier

HORIZON CITY – On March 6, the Horizon Regional Municipal Utility District (HRMUD) signed papers to gain ownership of Emerald Springs Golf Course. The course was previously owned by a group of investors called Friends of Emerald Springs (FOES). The Board of Directors of the HRMUD approved the purchase of the course to avoid a costly investment in developing a new location to divert treated wastewater. The owners of the course notified the Board that their rights to use the course for effluent were to be terminated and that created a need to find an alternative quickly.

Since the course was opened in the 1960s, the HRMUD had a lease that would allow the HRMUD to spray treated wastewater on the course. According to Toby Alvarado, the HRMUD general manager, “It was very important that we apply the treated water on the property. It’s a way to deposit half a million gallons of treated waste water so that the waste is disposed in a manner that is acceptable under state law.

Although the treated water is not drinkable, the disposal on the golf course poses no hazards for the golfers. According to Tovar, different locations for alternative sites were looked into. However, notably not only was the cost to move to another location prohibitive, the cost to channel the water into the Rio Grande River was also very expensive. It became obvious that the most cost efficient solution was to purchase the property. “It would have cost double the price of the golf course to create a new field to spray the waste water,” Alvarado said.

Board member Benny Davis also felt it was in the best interests of the HRMUD and the customers to buy the land. “We thought it was a good investment” Davis said.

See GOLF COURSE, Page 2

---

Droughts upstream mean less water for El Paso

By Alfredo Vasquez Special to the Courier

EL PASO COUNTY – “Due to the lack of snow and low water levels at the dam, the 2013 irrigation season might not start until June 1,” states the notice that is presently posted on the El Paso County Water Improvement District’s (EPCWID) website.

Most of the water stored at Elephant Butte begins as rain and snow falling in northern New Mexico and Colorado.

The water level at Elephant Butte Lake is currently down significantly compared with previous irrigation seasons because of the region’s prolonged, severe drought. Water at the lake -- so popular for boating, fishing and swimming -- sits at less than 4 percent of water available to downstream users, including El Paso water customers and farmers, according to El Paso Water Utilities (EPWU) officials.

As a result, EPCWID and EPCWID#1 plan to shift away from relying on the Rio Grande for the region’s drinking and farming needs. Jesus “Chuy” Reyes, general manager of EPCWID#1, said that the district’s customers, who include farmers, are being affected drastically. Reyes said that the irrigation season usually begins with water releases from Elephant Butte in March, but because of the drought, releases will be delayed until June.

The water allocations probably will be smaller this year too, according to Reyes. He stated that EPCWID#1 has 58 wells, but that they do not provide the same amount of water as pumping from the Rio Grande. EPWU also plans to make up the difference by relying more heavily on well water. EPWU has started drilling new wells and building new pipelines to more efficiently move that water around the city, according to John E. Balliew, EPWU president and chief executive officer.

“The bottom line is that we expect less river water again this year. For now, it’s just too early to know how much less,” Balliew said.

Water officials said that EPWU generally

See WATER, Page 5

---

BONE DRY – El Paso Water Utilities and El Paso Water Improvement District #1 plan to raise public awareness regarding the lack of water in the Rio Grande (above) and encourage residents to participate in water conservation.
To help a veteran, help the family

Spring is almost here, and most of the country has seen tough weather over the winter in the form of floods, hurricane and heavy snow. For many veterans, it’s been a time of trying to keep body and soul together. Those who have families have had it worse.

This would be a good time to concentrate on one or two veterans in your area, especially those who are disabled in some way. Focus on services that the veteran doesn’t get through normal benefits channels. Ask the veteran what he or she needs, and consider offering one or more of the following:

• A summer of lawn mowing or some other home service to help the family. If you schedule the duty among your membership, chances are you will be doing it more than once or twice this summer. If you have teenage children, this would be an example of an area where they could pitch in.

• Painting a room or the porch. Rebuild wobbly steps or create a ramp. (Check local building codes and permits.)

• Taking the family vehicle for oil changes and service, and add the bonus of a wash, wax and vacuum.

• Don’t forget the veteran’s children, especially if the veteran has difficulty getting around. Offer to include the kids in Little League, sign-ups, pizza parties and movie evenings at the library. Pay any fees or costs incurred, especially with Little League and soccer, and pay for uniforms. Arrange for transportation to games for the kids as well as the veteran.

Your regular efforts to help, while they might be small to you, will take a responsibility off the shoulders of the veteran in need, especially when it comes to family. Remember: When you help the family, you help the veteran.

Write to Freddy Groves in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 316475, Orlando, FL 32833-6475, or send e-mail to cg columnreply@gmail.com. (c) 2013 King Features Synd., Inc.

Plan your summer Education Finances By Jason Alderman

Avoiding post-disaster scam artists

Have you ever turned on the light in a dark basement and shuddered as cockroaches scurried away? I get that same sense of revulsion whenever I hear about unscrupulous con artists taking advantage of the victims of natural and manmade disasters.

The Better Business Bureau has dubbed these human cockroaches “Storm Chasers” because they creep out of the woodwork after every major storm or disaster. In fact, because fraud was widespread after Hurricane Katrina, the Department of Justice created the National Center for Disaster Fraud, a central information clearinghouse for more than 20 federal agencies where people can report suspected fraudulent activities tied to disasters of all types.

One common scam is where supposed repair workers blitz impacted neighborhoods, hoping to ensnare frustrated homeowners. Their typical line is, “We’re really slammed but with a cash deposit you can ensure a spot on our busy schedule.” Or, they’ll scare people into thinking their home is dangerously unsafe, sometimes actually creating damage during their “inspection.”

Often, these Storm Chasers just take the money and run. Or, if they do show up and make repairs, their materials or work are shoddy.

By Jason Alderman directs Visa’s financial education programs.

Golf course From Page 1

was a great deal for us and for the community. We can keep the golf course in play for the benefit of the community as well as dispensing the effluent,” Davis said.

Davis also commented that the steps to reopen the golf course can begin now that the sale has been finalized. A new course manager has already been working at the golf course for several months. He can now take certain actions to accelerate the re-opening of the course.

Jeff Gates is the new manager of the course. Some may remember him as a newscaster for KTSJ TV in the 1970s.

After a short retirement from television, Jeff found himself as manager of the Las Cruces Country Club, Painted Dunes Desert Golf Club, and then Painted Dunes and Emerald Springs simultaneously. During that period, Gates took classes to enhance his knowledge of turf management. He definitely views his job as a great opportunity. “It’s almost like building a new golf course,” said Gates. “The reason I took the job was because the course was in such bad shape, anything I did for the course would make it much better than before.”

The target opening of the golf course and restaurant is mid-June. Gates explained that the delay is due to the 90-day period needed to manufacture golf carts. He also added, “I don’t want to open the course until it is in good shape.”

But he added that the driving range is already open to the public. An independent contractor will run the restaurant. HRMUD is in the process of interviewing companies interested in running the restaurant.

Gates sees a definite competitive advantage in the relationship between the golf course and the HRMUD. The course will receive daily spraying of the wastewater year round. That means the grounds will remain green during every season. Golfers will have an alternative to other local courses that are not kept green in winter months.

Alvarado, Gates and Davis all agreed that the growth in Horizon City will create a more local source of golfers. In previous years, the club was dependent on a large number of golfers from the city of El Paso.

The course was originally named the Horizon Golf & Tennis Center. The course became famous during a period of time that hall of fame golfer Lee Trevino played there. The course and the restaurant both were very successful until the late 1980s.

No better time to open the golf course and restaurant, Davis said. Davis explained that the delay in the opening was because of floods, hurricane and heavy snow. For many veterans, it’s been a time of trying to keep body and soul together. Those who have families have had it worse.

This would be a good time to concentrate on one or two veterans in your area, especially those who are disabled in some way. Focus on services that the veteran doesn’t get through normal benefits channels. Ask the veteran what he or she needs, and consider offering one or more of the following:

• A summer of lawn mowing or some other home service to help the family. If you schedule the duty among your membership, chances are you will be doing it more than once or twice this summer. If you have teenage children, this would be an example of an area where they could pitch in.

• Painting a room or the porch. Rebuild wobbly steps or create a ramp. (Check local building codes and permits.)

• Taking the family vehicle for oil changes and service, and add the bonus of a wash, wax and vacuum.

• Don’t forget the veteran’s children, especially if the veteran has difficulty getting around. Offer to include the kids in Little League sign-ups, pizza parties and movie evenings at the library. Pay any fees or costs incurred, especially with Little League and soccer, and pay for uniforms. Arrange for transportation to games for the kids as well as the veteran.

Your regular efforts to help, while they might be small to you, will take a responsibility off the shoulders of the veteran in need, especially when it comes to family. Remember: When you help the family, you help the veteran.

Write to Freddy Groves in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 316475, Orlando, FL 32833-6475, or send e-mail to cg columnreply@gmail.com. (c) 2013 King Features Synd., Inc.

Plan your summer Education Finances By Jason Alderman

Avoiding post-disaster scam artists

Have you ever turned on the light in a dark basement and shuddered as cockroaches scurried away? I get that same sense of revulsion whenever I hear about unscrupulous con artists taking advantage of the victims of natural and manmade disasters.

The Better Business Bureau has dubbed these human cockroaches “Storm Chasers” because they creep out of the woodwork after every major storm or disaster. In fact, because fraud was widespread after Hurricane Katrina, the Department of Justice created the National Center for Disaster Fraud, a central information clearinghouse for more than 20 federal agencies where people can report suspected fraudulent activities tied to disasters of all types.

One common scam is where supposed repair workers blitz impacted neighborhoods, hoping to ensnare frustrated homeowners. Their typical line is, “We’re really slammed but with a cash deposit you can ensure a spot on our busy schedule.” Or, they’ll scare people into thinking their home is dangerously unsafe, sometimes actually creating damage during their “inspection.”

Often, these Storm Chasers just take the money and run. Or, if they do show up and make repairs, their materials or work are shoddy.

By Jason Alderman directs Visa’s financial education programs.

Golf course From Page 1

was a great deal for us and for the community. We can keep the golf course in play for the benefit of the community as well as dispensing the effluent,” Davis said.

Davis also commented that the steps to reopen the golf course can begin now that the sale has been finalized. A new course manager has already been working at the golf course for several months. He can now take certain actions to accelerate the re-opening of the course.

Jeff Gates is the new manager of the course. Some may remember him as a newscaster for KTSJ TV in the 1970s.

After a short retirement from television, Jeff found himself as manager of the Las Cruces Country Club, Painted Dunes Desert Golf Club, and then Painted Dunes and Emerald Springs simultaneously. During that period, Gates took classes to enhance his knowledge of turf management. He definitely views his job as a great opportunity. “It’s almost like building a new golf course,” said Gates. “The reason I took the job was because the course was in such bad shape, anything I did for the course would make it much better than before.”

The target opening of the golf course and restaurant is mid-June. Gates explained that the delay is due to the 90-day period needed to manufacture golf carts. He also added, “I don’t want to open the course until it is in good shape.”

But he added that the driving range is already open to the public. An independent contractor will run the restaurant. HRMUD is in the process of interviewing companies interested in running the restaurant.

Gates sees a definite competitive advantage in the relationship between the golf course and the HRMUD. The course will receive daily spraying of the wastewater year round. That means the grounds will remain green during every season. Golfers will have an alternative to other local courses that are not kept green in winter months.

Alvarado, Gates and Davis all agreed that the growth in Horizon City will create a more local source of golfers. In previous years, the club was dependent on a large number of golfers from the city of El Paso.

The course was originally named the Horizon Golf & Tennis Center. The course became famous during a period of time that hall of fame golfer Lee Trevino played there. The course and the restaurant both were very successful until the late 1980s.

No better time to open the golf course and restaurant, Davis said. Davis explained that the delay in the opening was because of floods, hurricane and heavy snow. For many veterans, it’s been a time of trying to keep body and soul together. Those who have families have had it worse.

This would be a good time to concentrate on one or two veterans in your area, especially those who are disabled in some way. Focus on services that the veteran doesn’t get through normal benefits channels. Ask the veteran what he or she needs, and consider offering one or more of the following:

• A summer of lawn mowing or some other home service to help the family. If you schedule the duty among your membership, chances are you will be doing it more than once or twice this summer. If you have teenage children, this would be an example of an area where they could pitch in.

• Painting a room or the porch. Rebuild wobbly steps or create a ramp. (Check local building codes and permits.)

• Taking the family vehicle for oil changes and service, and add the bonus of a wash, wax and vacuum.

• Don’t forget the veteran’s children, especially if the veteran has difficulty getting around. Offer to include the kids in Little League sign-ups, pizza parties and movie evenings at the library. Pay any fees or costs incurred, especially with Little League and soccer, and pay for uniforms. Arrange for transportation to games for the kids as well as the veteran.

Your regular efforts to help, while they might be small to you, will take a responsibility off the shoulders of the veteran in need, especially when it comes to family. Remember: When you help the family, you help the veteran.

Write to Freddy Groves in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 316475, Orlando, FL 32833-6475, or send e-mail to cg columnreply@gmail.com. (c) 2013 King Features Synd., Inc.
Our national debt problem

Our nation must crawl out of debt. If our outgo continues to exceed our income then our upkeep will be our downfall. Our fiscal house is out of order. Therefore there is urgency in our government for more and more money. Where is this money coming from? The money will come from you, your family and friends. We will never be out of debt by enacting more and more taxes on any group in America whether it’s the two percent who are considered rich or the large population of the poor or middle class. We can only do this by eliminating wasteful spending.

As a nation we have gone crazy with debt. We are a poor example for our own citizens and the rest of the world. People in America are drowning in debt. American people are losing their homes every day, filing for bankruptcy and as a result many are denied services that we cannot afford.

In the process our nation is crumbling because we cannot fix our own bridges and roads. Our Social Security and Medicare systems are struggling because our government continues to indebt us and rob the Social Security system to pay for foreign projects that are beyond our means. Therefore our seniors are becoming poorer, the poor are becoming poorer, our young people cannot find jobs and the middle class is becoming the poor class.

Congress should never raise taxes on any group of people in America. The percentages are high enough. The day will come when someone will try to lead Congress to tax our income by 50%. It won’t just be the rich. We cannot afford until we have our own house and make more money. Today people sigh and say, “If I make more it will just all go to the government for taxes.” Why would we make more money? Today people sigh and say, “If I make more it will just all go to the government for taxes.” Why would we wish others to work longer hours and move to the top if we do not believe we can. We can become a nation with a surplus and not a deficit. We can once again all join hands and turn this nation around. I believe we can. We can become a nation with a surplus and not a deficit. We can once again lead the world in employment. We should not become satisfied watching China, Japan, India and other nations steal our manufacturing out of our factories and other nations steal our manufacturing out of our own homes and our homeless Veterans walk the streets of America.

I am dreaming of a day when once again families can put some money in the bank and make more money. Today people sigh and say, “If I make more it will just all go to the government for taxes.” Why would we wish others to work longer hours and move to the top if we do not believe we can. We can become a nation with a surplus and not a deficit. We can once again lead the world in employment. We should not become satisfied watching China, Japan, India and other nations steal our manufacturing out of our factories and other nations steal our manufacturing out of our own homes and our homeless Veterans walk the streets of America.

I am dreaming of a day when once again families can put some money in the bank and make more money. Today people sigh and say, “If I make more it will just all go to the government for taxes.” Why would we wish others to work longer hours and move to the top if we do not believe we can. We can become a nation with a surplus and not a deficit. We can once again lead the world in employment. We should not become satisfied watching China, Japan, India and other nations steal our manufacturing out of our factories and other nations steal our manufacturing out of our own homes and our homeless Veterans walk the streets of America.
SAN ELIZARIO – A group of San Elizario activist met on March 4 to continue efforts at incorporating the community under state law. The effort is a part of a wider effort to stop efforts by the Socorro City Council to annex parts of San Elizario.

Long time community leader Ben Sanchez and his daughter Maya Sanchez brought the group together at Maya’s Gardens Party Hall. The meeting began the process of creating a formal organization that will fight the annexation. Once the organization is chartered, it will accept donations from the public for its political activity.

Maya Sanchez was nominated president and was elected unanimously. Alma Alvidrez was elected as the secretary. Leticia Miranda was elected chair of the group that two council seats and the mayor’s seat were up for election in May.

Rodriguez announced that he is a candidate for the at-large seat. He also is part of a slate of candidates on the ballot for the three positions. If he and the others are elected, he committed to the group that they will stop any annexation efforts completely.

“As a resident of Socorro, I can do my part in trying to help you avoid annexation,” Rodriguez said. He went on to say that, in his opinion, the makeup of the Socorro Council guarantees that the annexation will be done – not only now but also continuing in the future.

He informed the group that two council seats and the mayor’s seat were up for election in May.

The San Elizario Incorporation Effort Group will have an enchilada dinner fundraiser on March 16. The cost of a plate will be $5 with a drink for one dollar more. The location will be Maya’s Gardens Party Hall, 12339 Socorro Rd.

For more information, contact Paul Johnson, 269-5746. /n/n/Speaking Out – Maya Sanchez, President of the San Elizario Incorporation Effort Group, watched as Rene Rodriguez Spoke. Rodriguez is a resident of Socorro and candidate for city council who opposes efforts by Socorro to annex parts of San Eliz.
Water

From Page 1

pumps half of its water supply from wells in the city. The other half comes from water released from Elephant Butte Lake into the Rio Grande.

Mexico, which by treaty is entitled to use its waters for Juárez area farmers, agreed to some of the Rio Grande water, according to a recent news report.

The Horizon City Fire Station is the location where ESDs 1 and 2 met to discuss pending legislation by Representative Marquez. Both districts have vowed to cooperate in preventing the passage.

The most urgent concern of the ESDs was that court involvement could seriously impede the repair or replacement of important equipment. For example, if a ladder truck is in need of parts and repairs, the process of going to the court will add significant down time. The safety of the residents in the district depends on all of the equipment being available.

According to Steve Hambrick, an ESD1 board member, both district boards feel that the necessary oversight is already in place. The commissioners appoint board members on a regular schedule and can remove board members if they are negligent or violate penal codes.

A hearing in the House County Affairs Committee was held on March 7 to hear testimony for or against the bill. In her testimony before the committee, County Judge Veronica Escobar said, “We appointed good people who committed to putting into place policies and procedures and so we feel we are on the right track. But the challenge to the court was how do we prevent this from ever happening again,” said Escobar. Escobar was alluding to allegations of wrongdoing in ESD2.

Prior to the hearing Hambrick said, “[Former] Representative Quintanilla is the only elected official to visit with the districts to understand what they do.” “No commissioner has taken the time to see what the districts do. It is disappointing that commissioners are seeking such oversight and have not attended our board meetings or watched as our volunteers extinguish fires.”

Also included in the bill, leases or financial agreements or loans cannot be finalized until the court votes to approve. Contracts with other political subdivisions or federal agencies could not be finalized without commissioner’s court approval.

Hambrick pointed out that all financial activities of a board can be reviewed at any time by the county auditor. Both ESDs are required to submit an annual audit to the county by June of each year. The ESDs contract with private accountants who perform the audits. However, the county has the authority to perform the audits instead.

Emergency Services Districts were authorized by a constitutional amendment approved by the voters in 1987. The amendment authorized the districts to provide any emergency services allowed by law.

Ways you can conserve water

1. Turn off the faucet while washing your hair, lathering your hands, shaving or brushing your teeth.
2. Fix leaky faucets, toilets and valves. Don’t forget to check outside faucets, too.
3. Install a water-efficient showerhead and toilet.
4. Shorten your shower by one to two minutes.
5. Run the clothes washer and dishwasher only when they are full.
6. Wash fruits and vegetables in a pan of water instead of running water. Collect the rinse water and use it to water houseplants.
7. Designate one glass for your drinking water each day or refill a water bottle.
8. Adjust sprinklers so only your lawn is watered, not the sidewalk.
9. Spread a layer of organic mulch around plants to retain moisture.
10. Use a broom instead of a hose to clean your driveway and sidewalk.
11. Don’t water your lawn on windy days.
12. Use a commercial carwash that recycles water.

Find more water-conservation tips at epwu.org/conservation and wateruseitwisely.com

To Advertise Call 852-3235 • Archives: www.wtxcc.com
Floyd’s Southern Cal meet puts UTEP’s future in different light

By Steve Escoveda
Special to the Courier

The month of March is here and for sports fans across America that means the beginning of March Madness. And that’s no different for the citizens of El Paso who pass away anxiously to see whether the Texas–El Paso Miners (except Central Florida which is on probation) will meet in Tulsa for the conference tournament. It appears that win or lose, the Memphis Tigers will be going dancing no matter what they do in the NCAA tournament.

But for the rest of the field, it appears that the only way they’ll ever make it to the NCAA tournament is by upsetting Memphis and winning it all in Tulsa. And that’s exactly what Miners fans should be worried about this time of year. They should stay.

But most UTEP basketball fans are worried about something else. They’re worried that as soon as the Miners lose and their season ends, that the team and the city, will lose its cock.

All the talk surrounding UTEP the last couple of weeks has been the 3-hour conversation UTEP coach Tim Floyd had with USC Athletics Director Pat Haden. Floyd is looking for a replacement. Where did Floyd leave to come coach at UTEP – Southern California?

At this meeting with the media after UTEP’s narrow loss to Memphis last week, Floyd was asked whether he was staying to coach at UTEP. Floyd said would is that he had not been offered the job at USC and that he was not looking for a job.

But that he would take the job if it was offered to him, Floyd sidestepped the issue and said that all was he going to say about the matter.

I have to admit that I was skeptical about him leaving but being in that media room, I left it not as confident that he was going to stay.

But seeing as how sporting events are “games” first and money foremost, “games” first and money foremost, Floyd’s Southern Cal meet puts UTEP’s future in different light. Wouldn’t it be great if the fans would do this every inning!

So, to rephrase, give them what they want… but please let “they” be actual fans of the game. The money will always be there, foremost.

Mark Vasto is a veteran sportswriter who lives in Kansas City. (c) 2013 King Features Synd., Inc.
I’ll describe the typical pain of sciatica, and you see if the description fits your pain. The sciatic nerve is the body’s largest and longest nerve. It travels from the lower back, down the leg to the ankle or foot. Pressure on the nerve from a protruding back disk, a bone spur or anything that compresses the nerve brings on sharp or burning pain running down the side and back of the leg to the foot.

Putting the knees to the chest and holding that position for 20 seconds produces sciatica pain. The pain of sciatica often lessens and disappears in one or two months. The X-ray report you included doesn’t rule in or rule out sciatica. If the pain persists, an MRI or CT scan provides additional information. You are improving, so I think eventually you should be pain-free.

Vasculitis is an inflammation of the blood vessels, and Henoch-Schonlein (HE-knock SURS-line) purpura is one kind of vasculitis. Children get this illness more than adults do. Red blotches that turn into bruises (purpura) pop up on the buttocks and legs. Joint pain, abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea (or constipation) also arise. In the first year after recovery, relapses are common. If your current stomach troubles are from vasculitis, I recommend seeing a rheumatologist and sharing your story. It’s possible. So is infection. Neither happens frequently.

Doctors perform a liver biopsy with a needle attached to a suction device that can capture a thin piece of the organ for microscopic examination. The needle is inserted through the skin over the liver. First the doctor cleans the skin with an antiseptic and often numbs it. The procedure takes less than a minute. You return home shortly thereafter.

Side effects are rare. Bleeding is possible. So is infection. Neither happens frequently

You don’t have to prepare yourself in any special way. Dr. Donohue regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but he will incorporate them in columns whenever possible. Readers may write him or request an order form of available health newsletters at Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475. Enclose a check or money order for $47.50 U.S./$65 Canada with the recipient’s printed name and address. Please allow four weeks for delivery.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have had sciatica for two and a half months. Even though I am better than at 1 was first, I am taking forever to fully recover. I have had chiropractic treatments and physiotherapy. My doctor tells me it will go away on its own. Books that I have read say that most recover in six weeks. It’s going on three months for me. I also had vasculitis (Henoch-Schonlein purpura). I haven’t experienced any symptoms for a couple of years. I have been feeling naseauted and have loose BMs and the odd stomachaches. A red spot appeared on my leg a few days ago. Do you think the vasculitis is playing a role in my delay to recovery? – J.B.

DeAR DR. DONOHUE: As someone preparing for a liver biopsy, please discuss the procedure, recovery and possible side effects.—R.J.

Doctors perform a liver biopsy with a needle attached to a suction device that can capture a thin piece of the organ for microscopic examination. The needle is inserted through the skin over the liver. First the doctor cleans the skin with an antiseptic and often numbs it. The procedure takes less than a minute. You return home shortly thereafter.

Side effects are rare. Bleeding is possible. So is infection. Neither happens frequently

You don’t have to prepare yourself in any special way.
Q: My wife and I live in Minnesota, but plan to spend the winter in New Mexico. My wife will turn 62 while we are down south. Can she apply for benefits in New Mexico, or do we have to wait until we get back home to apply for retirement at our local Social Security office?

A: These days, you don’t even have to be near a Social Security office to apply for benefits. Regardless of where you and your wife are living, you can apply for retirement benefits online at www.socialsecurity.gov/applyotthere. It’s so easy to do, and it can take as little as 15 minutes to complete and submit the application. If she prefers, your wife can file a retirement benefit application at any Social Security office – including the one closest to you in Minnesota, New Mexico, or wherever you happen to be.

Q: I am about to apply for Social Security disability benefits. I have two children, ages 9 and 12. If my application is approved, will they get benefits, too? Or do the children also have to be disabled to qualify for benefits on my record?

A: If you qualify for Social Security disability benefits, your children may receive dependent’s benefits based on your work record, even if they’re not disabled themselves. As long as you receive benefits, their benefits will continue until they reach age 18, or until age 19 if they are still in high school. If your children are disabled, however, at the time that they reach age 18, they may be able to continue receiving benefits into adulthood. For more information, visit our website on disability benefits at www.socialsecurity.gov/disability.

Q: I am 57 years old and I currently receive Social Security disability benefits. Can I still get my regular Social Security retirement benefits when I reach full retirement age?

A: If you are still receiving Social Security disability benefits when you reach your full retirement age, we will automatically switch you from disability benefits to retirement benefits at that point. The money amount will remain the same. For more information, visit our website on disability benefits at www.socialsecurity.gov/disability.

---

True Texas Facts by Roger T. Moore
March 14, 1924–Charles Lindbergh starts pilot training at Brooks field in San Antonio.

---

STRANGE BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- It was Robert Kennedy who made the following sage observation: “One-fifth of the people are against everything all the time.”
- An adult ostrich can reach up to 9 feet in height and weigh upward of 300 pounds.
- The Taj Mahal, a tomb built by Indian Mogul Emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his wife, Mumtaz Mahal, is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of the most-visited tourist attractions in the world. It wasn’t always so, though; from the time of the building’s completion in 1643 until the British occupied the Indian subcontinent, only Muslims were allowed on the grounds. If any non-Muslim ventured into the forbidden Taj Mahal, he or she was put to death.
- When World War I started, the U.S. Air Force had a grand total of 50 soldiers.
- The frigid island nation of Iceland is, by all accounts, a peaceful place. In the entire history of the country, there has been only one armed-robbery.
- When Albert Einstein was 9 years old, he still wasn’t able to speak fluently. His parents worried that he might be retarded.
- In 1957, famed crooner Frank Sinatra wrote for a magazine called “Western World” a piece that included the following: “My only deep sorrow is the unrelenting insistence of recording and motion picture companies upon purveying the most brutal, ugly, degenerate, vicious form of expression it has been my displeasure to hear, and naturally I’m referring to the bulk of rock ’n roll.” He goes on to call it “the martial music of every sideburned delinquent on the face of the earth.”
- If you’re like the average human, your body produces about two quarts of saliva every day.

---

GO FIGURE!
by Linda Thistle

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank spaces and use each of the nine numbers only once.

DIFFICULTY: ★

Moderate ★★ Difficult

★★★★★ GO FIGURE!

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

 Moderate ★★ HOO BOY!

© 2013 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

---

Weekly SUDOKU
by Linda Thistle

Place a number in the empty boxes in such a way that each row across, each column down and each small 3x3 box square contains all of the numbers from one to nine.

DIFFICULTY THIS WEEK: ★

© 2013 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

---

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals D, it will equal D throughout the puzzle. Solution is accompanied by trial and error.

Clue: E equals A

YBC ZSOFYJ ENYTO E DEJSBA
PLTA QMY’Z EX TXJEOFMHG RGY
EBCXZFRS XL: ‘DEOMHG

JYQZ NHZO.’

© 2013 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

---

FEAR n KNOT™

By Tj Johnson
Conquer the Whirlies

A WHN
D IMASS
♥ NESTO
TRL NUAL
MEDHYN
SAS
♥ NSWO
HYSUM
♥ ESU
DUNISA
WARND
MARH

© 2013 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

---

Thoughts for the Day: “Enemies are so stimulating.” – Katharine Hepburn