San Eli groups give families food relief

By Cynthia P. Marentes
Special to the Courier

The San Elizario Independent School District (SEISD) joined forces with several organizations to bring some needed relief for families in the community and the timing could not have come at a better time. Approximately 913 families from San Elizario and surrounding areas received hams, canned goods and other food staples on October 3.

The food distribution was made possible by El Pasoans Fighting Hunger who secured the food donation and delivered it to the San Elizario Community Food Bank. Abundant Living Faith Center also provided bread to the families as well as volunteers who helped to sort, pack and distribute all the groceries. Other agencies providing volunteer assistance included SEISD, Project Bravo, Border Patrol and UTEP.

The planning and coordination for the event took place over a period of four weeks involving social worker Nora Garcia, SEISD Board President Antonio Araujo, and El Pasoans Fighting Hunger. Garcia and Araujo approached the hunger-relief organization, El Pasoans Fighting Hunger, about creating a partnership to provide food staples for families in the community. Around the same time the non-profit had just received a grant for a food distribution event to take place in one concentrated area and all they needed was another entity to host it. In a span of over four weeks, Garcia and other social workers from the district started filling out paperwork and signing up families in preparation for the large ham distribution at the weekly giveaways held at the San Elizario Community Food Bank. Once they completed their intake forms the families would receive a bracelet that they then turned in as they passed through the food distribution line.

Garcia believes that the event took place at the most opportune time for families, the majority from San Elizario, who only last month had endured damages to their homes due to the severe rains that impacted the area.

“A lot of them were still fixing their homes and using that little extra money they had for repairs. This (food distribution) came at a time when they needed it the most,” Garcia said.

That Thursday morning families waited patiently in line, some since 2:00 a.m., to receive a large 12 pound ham, canned goods, pasta, cereal, and bread. Additionally, over 70 food packages were delivered to homebound disabled and elderly residents.

The San Elizario Community Food Bank usually provides a small amount of staple foods to families in need every Thursday. The food bank is located next to the Organizacion Progresiva de San Elizario at 1444 Main in San Elizario.

El Paso Archaeological Society investigates Sierra Diablo Cave

By Alfredo Vasquez
Special to the Courier

El Paso archaeologist Jose ‘Javi’ Vasquez will show artifacts – that date back nearly 10,000 years and were discovered in a nearby West Texas cave—during a special presentation that is scheduled for 2 p.m., Saturday, October 19, at the El Paso Museum of Archaeology (4301 Transmountain Road).

The Saturday afternoon showing is designed to highlight the archaeological investigations by UTEP archaeology students that have occurred at Sierra Diablo Cave since 2008. The Sierra Diablo cave is located in the Sierra Diablo Mountains near Sierra Blanca and Van Horn, Texas.

In his talk, Vasquez will tell about some of the interesting Archaic period (8,000 B.C. to A.D. 1) finds that exhibit great preservation

Museum presentation reveals San Elizario’s missing mission

By Alfredo Vasquez
Special to the Courier

Before the old Spanish presidio at San Elizario was built, a small mission existed that was constructed for the Apache Indians. This mission, however, had deteriorated by the time work on the presidio had begun in the 1880s.

Local historian Nicholas P. Houser will give an interesting account entitled The Unknown Mission at San Elizario: Before the Presidio, which documents the existence of that missing mission. His talk is part of The Missions of Spain in the Borderlands Lecture Series sponsored by the El Paso Museum of History.

Houser’s presentation will begin at 2 p.m., Saturday, October 12, at the history museum (510 North Santa Fe Street). The free event is open to the public and is being held in conjunction with the Fourth Wall of Giants exhibit which is currently on display at the museum.

Houser, who has degrees in anthropology, history, and public health, is historian/archivist for the Ysleta Del Sur Pueblo that is located in El Paso’s Lower Valley. He has conducted extensive historical research for the Tigua Indians and on the history of the El Paso region.

in solid archaeological context. “Multiple excavation areas across the cave have yielded distinctive items within the upper layers of excavation units. The chronological parameters are explored as they relate to radiocarbon-dated charcoal, time-diagnostic projectile points, and diverse faunal and archaebotanical (plant) assemblages,” Vasquez stated in a recent report.

Since 2008, Vasquez has directed the excavation project at Sierra Diablo Cave in Hudspeth County, located within Circle Ranch boundaries. With sponsorship from the National Geographic Society, the Argonaut Archaeological Research Fund, Circle Ranch, and collaborator Dr. Vance T. Holliday (University of Arizona at Tucson), Vasquez said that he plans to continue his research on this fascinating site.

“It is generally rare to find archaeological sites in the Southwest that retain the type of contextual integrity that the Sierra Diablo Cave exhibits. Often times, cave sites such as the one currently studied offer excellent preservation of cultural materials due to the general lack of moisture and isolation from wind and water erosion. The research aims to determine when the site was occupied as well as the types of activities that were occurring during those occupations,” stated Vasquez.

Vasquez, who is from Socorro TX, is currently working as a project director for Statistical Research, Inc. He received his undergraduate and graduate degrees at UTEP. Since 2006, Vasquez has participated in dozens of projects in the Southwest, many of which have been on Fort Bliss TX property, in varying capacities.

Vasquez’s upcoming presentation is provided by the El Paso Archaeological Society in partnership with the El Paso Museum of Archaeology. For more information about the upcoming event, contact Marilyn Guida, the museum’s curator of education, at 755-4332.

Finances

Reevaluate your needs during open enrollment

If you're among the 170 million Americans who receive health insurance through an employer-provided plan, you'll probably receive your 2014 open enrollment materials shortly. Although it's a pain to wade through all that information, simply opting for your current coverage could be a costly mistake. Here's why:

Health insurance has undergone major changes since the 2010 Affordable Care Act was passed, including the elimination of annual and lifetime coverage limits and preexisting conditions exclusions, expanded free preventive care and allowing children up to age 26 to remain on parents' plans.

In response, many employers have altered their benefit plans. Plus, if your family or income situations have changed since last year, your current plans may no longer be the best match. And, if your employer offers flexible spending accounts and you're not participating, you're leaving a valuable tax break on the table.

Here's what to look for when reviewing your benefit options:

Carefully compare all costs and features of the different plans offered and note how your existing coverage may be changing next year. Common changes include:

- Dropped or replaced medical plans.
- Increased monthly premiums, deductibles and copayment amounts.
- Revised drug formularies.
- Favored doctors or hospitals withdrawing from a plan's preferred provider network.
- Changes to the number of allowed visits for specialty care (acupuncture, chiropractic, physical therapy, etc.)

If offered, healthcare and dependent care flexible spending accounts (FSAs) can significantly offset the financial impact of medical and dependent care by letting you pay for eligible out-of-pocket expenses on a pre-tax basis; that is, before federal, state and Social Security taxes are deducted from your paycheck. This reduces your taxable income and therefore, your taxes.

You can use a healthcare FSA to pay for IRS-allowed medical expenses not covered by your medical, dental or vision plans. Check IRS Publication 502 for allowable expenses. Dependent care FSAs let you use pre-tax dollars to pay for eligible expenses related to care for your child, spouse, parent or other dependent incapable of self-care.

Here's how FSAs work: Say you earn $42,000 a year. If you contribute $1,000 to a health care FSA and $3,000 for dependent care, your taxable income would be reduced to $38,000. Your resulting net income, after taxes, would be roughly $1,600 more than if you had paid for those expenses on an after-tax basis.

Remember these FSA restrictions:

- Employee contributions are limited to $2,500 a year for health care FSAs and $5,000 for dependent care.
- Health care and dependent care contributions are not interchangeable.
- Estimate planned expenses carefully because you must forfeit unused account balances. Some employers offer a grace period of up to 2.5 months after the end of the plan year to incur expenses, but that's not mandatory, so check your company's policy.
- Outside of open enrollment, you can only make mid-year FSA changes after a major life or family status change (marriage, divorce, death of a spouse, birth or adoption, etc.) If one occurs mid-year, rejigger your FSAs accordingly for maximum savings.
- You must re-enroll in FSAs each year – amounts don't carry over from year to year.

Compare your employer's plans alongside those offered by your spouse's employer, particularly when deciding where to insure your children. Also remember that if you marry, divorce, or gain or lose dependents, it could impact the type – and cost – of your coverage options.

It's worth spending a few minutes to review your benefit coverage options for next year, especially when you consider the potential financial consequences.

Veterans Post

Veteran suicides

Operation S.A.V.E. is a Department of Veterans Affairs training program designed to prevent suicide in veterans. While the program is geared for suicide-prevention coordinators, there are points that can be helpful for family and friends of veterans who might be at risk.

The initials themselves outline parts of the program:

- Signs of suicide;
- Asking about suicide;
- Validating feelings; and
- Encouraging help and expediting treatment.

Those who work or live with veterans can help stop many veteran suicides. Here are some must-have resources:

- Go online and study the program that is given to VA suicide prevention coordinators. Google this title: Operation S.A.V.E.: VA Suicide Prevention Gatekeeper Training.
- Google "veteran suicide" and look for the .pdf entitled "Department of Veterans Affairs Operation SAVE Suicide Prevention." As you scroll, don't miss the Myths and Misinformation section, as well as the S.A.V.E steps.
- Go to www.mentalhealth.va.gov and click Suicide Prevention on the left side. You'll find a full menu of choices, including warning signs and resources.

The official guesstimate of the number of veteran suicides is 22 per day. As more people and groups read the "Suicide Data Report 2012" they eventually come to the conclusion that the number is low, for many reasons: Not all states participated in the survey and didn't provide numbers. Information in some cases was provided by funeral homes (who got their information from family members) and not by the VA. Information from states with large veteran populations wasn't used. Information wasn't current, and so on. In other words, the problem might be even worse.

For more-immediate help for yourself or someone you know, call 1-800-273-8255 and press 1. Or you can chat online at www.VeteransCrisisLine.net. Or send a text message to 838255 for free support.

Beginning in 2017, the regular City elections shall be held on the uniform election date established in the Texas Election Code during the month of May with a run-off election to be held on the earliest date practicable in accordance with the law.

(E) Any person who has served on the City Council for eight (8) consecutive years will be ineligible to occupy any position on the council for a period of two (2) years, provided however, the Mayor and Council Members elected in 2015 shall be eligible to serve for nine (9) consecutive years. Service of a period of time of less than one (1) year, regardless of whether the service was to fill a vacancy or was part of a term that was lengthened for the purpose of moving the regular election date or lengthening terms of office, will not count in determining the number of consecutive years of service. Any person who has not served on the Council during the previous two (2) consecutive years shall be eligible to serve under the same conditions as and with no more restrictions than a person who has never served on the Council. The time periods under this provision are measured based on the corresponding uniform election dates in the applicable years, regardless of the fact that the date falls a number of days over or short of the requisite period.

Fracción 3.01 Número, Selección y Gestiones, Subincisos (D) y (E)
(D) Los Regidores del Cabildo correspondientes a los curules 1, 2, 4 y 6 electos en 2012 tendrán una gestión de dos años. El Alcalde y los Regidores del Cabildo correspondientes a los curules 3, 5 y 7 electos en 2013 tendrán una gestión de dos años.

A partir de 2014, se ajustarán y se ampliarán las gestiones correspondientes al Alcalde y Regidores del Cabildo a fin de permitir la ampliación de las gestiones de dos años a cuatro años, y las elecciones periódicas anuales ya no se verificarán en la fecha uniforme de elección que establece el Código Electoral de Texas Elección durante el mes de noviembre sino en la fecha uniforme establecida durante el mes de mayo en años nones según el programa a continuación.

Las elecciones periódicas de la Ciudad verificadas en 2014 y 2015 se verificarán en la fecha uniforme de elección que establece el Código Electoral de Texas Elección durante el mes de noviembre. Los Regidores del Cabildo correspondientes a los curules 1, 2, 4 y 6 electos en 2014 quedarán electos a gestiones mayores de dos años pero menos de tres años de tal modo que el fin de la gestión coincidirá con una elección verificada en la fecha uniforme establecida durante el mes de mayo de 2017, quedando electos posteriormente a gestiones de cuatro años. El Alcalde y los Regidores del Cabildo correspondientes a los curules 3, 5 y 7 electos en 2015 quedarán electos a gestiones mayores de dos años pero menos de tres años de tal modo que el fin de la gestión coincidirá con una elección verificada en la fecha uniforme establecida durante el mes de mayo de 2019, posteriormente quedando electos a gestiones de cuatro años. A partir de 2017, se verificarán las elecciones periódicas de la Ciudad en la fecha uniforme de elección que establece el Código Electoral de Texas durante el mes de mayo con segunda ronda electoral a ser verificada en la primera fecha viable conforme a la ley.

(E) La persona que permanezca en el Cabildo durante ocho (8) años consecutivos quedará sin derecho a ocupar cargo alguno en el cabildo por un lapso de dos (2) años; no obstante, el Alcalde y Regidores del Cabildo electos en 2015 estarán en posibilidades de permanecer durante nueve (9) años consecutivos. El servicio durante un lapso menor que un (1) año, haya sido con el motivo de llenar una vacante o forme parte de una gestión ampliada con el fin de cambiar la fecha de elecciones periódicas o la ampliación de gestiones, no se tomará en cuenta en la determinación del número de años consecutivos de servicio. La persona que no haya prestado servicio en el Cabildo durante los dos (2) años consecutivos anteriores tendrá el mismo derecho a ocupar cargo en las mismas condiciones y sin más limitaciones que una persona que nunca haya prestado servicio en el Cabildo. Los lapsos de tiempo en la presente disposición se calculan con base en las fechas correspondientes a las fechas uniformes de elección en los años aplicables, sin tomar en cuenta que caiga la fecha varios días más o varios días menos del período respectivo.

Section 3.02 Qualifications, Subsections (C) and (D)
(C) Candidates for Mayor and Council Member shall be eligible for that elective office only when holding that office for a term of four years shall not result in the candidate exceeding the term limitation established in Section 3.01(E).
(D) If the Mayor or Council Member shall cease to possess any of these qualifications or shall cease to reside in the city or shall be convicted of a felony or is absent from three (3) regular Council meetings without being excused by the Council, he or she shall automatically forfeit the office and will not be allowed to participate in any meetings or actions taken by City Council.

Hard to tell who’s on top in NFL

By Steve Escajeda
Special to the Courier

What in the world is going on in the National Football League this year?

There have been some traditional powers over the years that you just know will be in the playoff mix every year.

Some teams appear to be on permanent roller coaster rides, up one year and down the next.

But there are teams that are consistently at, or near, the top of the league standings every single year.

Like the sun coming up every morning, or the moon going out every night, or Republicans and Democrats engaging in a disagreement of some kind, we’ve grown accustomed to expecting things to be a certain way.

Football fans expect to see the usual suspects challenge for titles, but there are a few teams who have prognosticators scratching their heads this year.

The New York Giants have been the glue of the NFC East for many years. With two Super Bowl wins in recent seasons, Eli Manning and that tough Giants defense always seem to put together that late season serge and play their best going into the playoffs.

But this year has been a nightmare for the Giants, who are not only suffering through a losing season, they’re getting blown out of games.

The usually machine-like Eli Manning is playing like a rookie and that usually strong defense has apparently taken the first month of the season off.

The Pittsburgh Steelers have also won a couple Super Bowls in recent years, led by quarterback Big Ben Roethlisberger.

But the Steelers, who seem to have had a good team every year since the Terry Bradshaw era, are a mere shell of what they usually are.

A powerful running game and nasty defense has served the Steelers well over the years. But the lack of quality running backs and a Swiss cheese defense has led the Steelers to a place they almost never experience – last place.

The Green Bay Packers are seemingly always in the Super Bowl talk. And why not, with one of the very best quarterbacks in the league, Aaron Rodgers leading the way.

The Packers aren’t out of the playoff hunt this year by any means, but they are struggling on defense and aren’t the same dominant offense they’ve been lately.

It isn’t hard to figure out why the Packers aren’t the offensive machine they’ve been in recent years. To put it simply, they have no running game.

So teams key on the passing game and although Rodgers still manages to put together good games, it isn’t enough to compensate for an iffy defense.

There was a lot of talk about the Atlanta Falcons taking that big championship step this year.

We all know about quarterback Matt Ryan’s struggles in the playoffs, but many believed that a breakthrough win in the postseason last year would lead to better things this season.

But the Falcons have played the role of underachiever so far this season.

On paper, they appear to be one of the favorites to represent the NFC in the big game at the end of the year but they have to learn how to get out of their own way first.

The Houston Texans are obviously one of the better teams in the league; but the one thing they lack is that killer instinct.

They are notorious for playing great football for three quarters, but quarterback Matt Shaub is quickly developing a reputation for making that big mistake that will eventually cost his team in the end.

What’s troubling about the Texans is that they undoubtedly have the best running game in the league with Arian Foster and Ben Tate, and the league’s best defensive player in J.J. Watt.

The Philadelphia Eagles opened the season going about 90 mph in coach Chip Kelly’s new college hurry-up offense.

Since the opener that offense has been stuck in neutral. They are trying to wear down their opponents but it looks more like the Eagles are wearing themselves out.

There is still plenty of time for these teams to get their act together but new contenders – the Colts and the Titans, Chiefs, Browns, Lions and Dolphins – might have something to say about that.

Either way, it makes for a more exciting, but still confusing, NFL season.

Your good healthBy Paul G. Donahue, M.D.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have corrected my high blood pressure using medication, exercise and diet. My blood pressure is now between 105/65 and 110/70. I started medication when I had consistent readings in the high 130s and low 140s for systolic and 85 to 90 for diastolic. When considering all the warnings and risk factors for people with high blood pressure, do I fit into that category? Or, can I safely assume I no longer have high blood pressure? – D.R.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have a serious sweet tooth, and I’m concerned about getting diabetes. Mostly, I crave candy. My last fasting blood sugar reading was 109. I am an 84-year-old woman weighing 134 pounds. Do I have to worry? –

A fasting blood sugar level of 109 is not normal, but is not high enough to say that you have diabetes (the number for that diagnosis is 126 or higher). It does mean you need to follow up with your doctor.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I had an exploratory laparotomy with a right hemicolectomy. The postoperative diagnosis was perforated appendix and hemicolectomy specimen. What is this? – L.J.

Your appendix, the narrow wormlike tube that dangles from the base of the right side of the colon, became inflamed. Its slender central cavity was blocked, and bacteria grew in the blocked cavity. That caused swelling. The appendix finally burst and spilled bacteria into the abdominal cavity. Treatment included surgical removal of the appendix and the right side of the colon. You are proof that appendicitis (inflammation of the appendix) is not always a routine matter.

Dr. Donohue regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but he will incorporate them in his column whenever possible. High blood pressure is one risk factor for stroke. The booklet on stroke explains this condition that is deservedly feared by all. Readers can obtain a copy by writing: Dr. Donohue – No. 902W, Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475. Enclose a check or money

Museum offers Dia de los Muertos Memory Box workshop

By Alfredo Vasquez
Special to the Courier

Local artist Maria Natividad will conduct a family workshop on how to make a Dia de los Muertos (Day of the Dead) Memory Box, beginning at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, October 17, at the El Paso Museum of History (510 North Santa Fe Street). All ages are welcome to participate in the free workshop.

“The celebration of the Day of the Dead is one of love, honor and memory. In this workshop participants will have the opportunity to make a memory box for a deceased loved one,” stated Sue Taylor, museum representative. The celebration takes place November 1 and 2 in connection with the Catholic holidays of All Saints’ Day and All Souls’ Day.

Taylor said that all materials will be provided for the workshop including the boxes which are about the size of a shoe box. “All participants have to do is bring a picture of the person they wish to honor and anything else that is descriptive of that person,” she added.

Natividad, an El Paso native, has been a teacher with Ysleta School District for the past 20 years. She said that she grew up surrounded by the rich culture and heritage of her Hispanic background and that as a visual artist she tries to put emotion into her artwork so that it draws the viewer into her work.

GO FIGURE!

by Linda Thistle

Unscramble these twelve letter strings to form each into an ordinary word (ex. HAGNEC becomes CHANGE ). Prepare to use only ONE word from any marked ( ♥ ) letter string as each unscrambles into more than one word (ex. ♥ RATHE becomes HATER or EARTH or HEART ). Fit each string's word either across or down to knot all twelve strings together.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- It was Mark Twain who made the following sage observation: “The man who does not read good books has no advantage over the man who cannot read them.”
- It’s interesting that an herbal cold remedy and a type of sea urchin share the same name: Echinacea. Both words are derived from the Greek word “echino,” which means “hedgehog.”
- In a recent survey, more than one-third of respondents admitted that they had dinged the car, then lied to their spouse, saying someone else was responsible for the damage.
- Presidential security was not as always as formidable as it is today. In 1913, former President Theodore Roosevelt was walking down a Milwaukee street, heading to a speech he was scheduled to give. A man named John Schrank pulled out a gun and shot toward Roosevelt, who staggered but did not fall. There was no blood evident, and Roosevelt, who was campaigning for a second term, insisted on delivering his speech. When he pulled from a coat pocket the 100 pages on which his speech was written, he saw a bullet hole through the sheets of paper. Still determined to carry on, he gave the speech before going to the hospital, where it was discovered that the bullet had penetrated 4 inches into his body. After the perpetrator was arrested, it became evident that Shcrank was insane; he claimed that President William McKinley had revealed to him in a dream that Roosevelt was responsible for McKinley’s assassination. Shrank spent the next 32 years in an insane asylum.

Thought for the Day: “We are not retreating – we are advancing in another direction.”
