Part-time diet
Kevin Loria writes about health in the publication, Tech Insider, and in a recent article he provided coverage of a new diet with benefits beyond just weight loss, says the Association of Mature American Citizens. “There’s evidence, at least a bit of it, that drastically cutting calories and eating a specific way five days out of the month may actually slow the effects of aging and make people less likely to suffer from illnesses like cancer, heart disease, and diabetes,” reports Loria. During those five days, dieters reduce caloric intake by up to two-thirds. The rest of the month, they eat normally. It should be noted that not a lot is known about the benefits or dangers of such a drastic dietary modification. But research projects are underway.

The Queen’s English
The operation was a success but, blimey, the patient lost her Texas drawl and woke up speaking with a British accent, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens. She wasn’t putting it on. Instead, it turns out, it was a very rare case of Foreign Accent Syndrome. It happened at Houston Methodist Sugar Land Hospital where Lisa Alamia, who has been a dyed-in-the-wool Texan all her life, underwent jaw surgery. Foreign Accent Syndrome was first observed in 1907 by a French Neurologist. Nearly 110 years later, Ms. Alamia is only the 100th documented case of the disorder.

Investigators from the El Paso Police Department obtained surveillance images of the vehicle involved and are asking for the public’s help in identifying the driver responsible for this serious crash through the Crime Stoppers. On the morning of Saturday, July 9, 2016 a woman was riding a bicycle northbound on the roadway from the impact. She was in the right lane when near the intersection of Helen of Troy. She was thrown forward and off the vehicle. The victim was not put on. Instead, it turns out, it was a very rare case of Foreign Accent Syndrome. Socorro neighbors revive crime watch program

By Alfredo Vasquez
Special to the Courier

SOCORRO – “One team one fight!” is the motto of the recently revived Wewoka Neighborhood Crime Watch program. “It is the first Socorro neighborhood to start up a crime watch program again in Socorro in a long time,” said Jesse Montelongo, a 25-year army veteran with two tours in Iraq and the group’s founder. The program was kicked off last April.

According to Montelongo, crime – including break-ins, thefts, vandalism, and graffiti – has increased in the area due to the city’s rapid growth. He said that is why he recommends all citizens take pride in their neighborhoods and communities and make a positive difference by participating in a crime watch program.

Montelongo said that he couldn’t have revived the program without his neighbors. “They deserve the credit; they go to all crime watch meetings and work closely with Socorro police,” he stated.

“We’ve started out meeting in an vacant building that was provided to us with help from the Socorro police department’s crime watch program coordinator,” Montelongo said. He said that the group currently consists of 19 neighbors and 2 retired U.S. Marshals and that they meet once a month.

“We’re the first neighborhood in Socorro in over 10 years to start a new crime watch program, and we have the support of Socorro City Hall and Police Chief Carlos Maldonado,” Montelongo commented.

According to Montelongo, the program has received endorsements from the mayor and city manager of Socorro for its efforts to have the El Paso Electric Company install streetlights around the neighborhoods. Also, “We are proposing speed bumps be installed in eight critical locations in the community,” he stated.

Additionally, “We are working with County Commissioner Vince Perez to help find the funding for six bus shelters which would be installed along Highway 20,” Montelongo said.

The program was kicked off last April.

Three Fabens Boy Scouts will become Eagles

By Don Woodyard
Special to the Courier

(Advertiser’s Note: Against the background of the Summer Olympics, the Courier is running a series of stories about three Fabens Boy Scouts that have earned the coveted Eagle Scout rank.)

FABENS – Scouting is in the news on two fronts. Seven Eagle Scouts are adding to the luster of their rank as the young men compete in the 2016 Summer Olympics in Rio de Janeiro.

At least one of them, Ryan Held, has already earned the gold as a part of the U.S. men’s 4X100 freestyle swimming team. Held, who holds the highest rank that a Boy Scout can achieve, now holds a gold medal, the pinnacle of achievement in the Olympics.

On a smaller, but no less important stage in the Lower Valley community of Fabens, a trio of youth from Troop 513 will soon be wearing the coveted rank of Eagle Scout. They are Sebastian Trujillo, 17; Jorge Gutierrez, Jr., 18; and David Ruiz, 17.

Their required Eagle projects, which will be detailed in future articles, reflect a concern for the community, of giving back to the community. One long-time Scout leader, who asked to remain anonymous, says the Boys Scouts’ efforts have left a lasting gleam of gold throughout Fabens.

Curt Noland, who has been scoutmaster of the troop for 10 years, says their Eagle badges will be presented at an Eagle Court of Honor that is planned for some time in

Ten tips for becoming a knowledgeable renter

On the hunt for a new apartment? A move can be an exciting opportunity to explore a new area or meet new people. However, competitive rental markets can make it difficult to find a desirable place on a budget. Keep these ten tips in mind to manage the process like a pro.

1. Talk to Other Tenants. Speak with current or past renters to get a sense for the building and landlord. Ask about the neighborhood, noise, timeliness with repairs and any other pressing questions. Consider looking for online reviews of the landlord as well, and research the neighborhood.

2. Upgrade Your Application. Go beyond the basic application requirements and include pictures, references, credit reports and a short bio about yourself and whoever else may be moving in. Try to catch the landlord’s eye and show that you’ll take care of the property. You can order a free credit report from each bureau (Equifax, TransUnion and Experian) once every 12 months at AnnualCreditReport.com.

3. Understand Your Lease. The lease may list the rent amount, terms of the security deposit, guest policies and other crucial details. Read it carefully and ask questions if you don’t understand something. State laws regarding rent control or other regulations can impact your situation as well. If you can afford one, you could hire a lawyer to review and explain the lease.

4. Negotiate the Terms. You aren’t always negotiated lower rent (it’s worth trying), but there may be flexibility when it comes to the security deposit, parking spaces, administrative fees, or the lease’s length.

5. Learn Your Rights. Protect yourself by learning about your rights as a renter. They can vary by state, and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has a directory with links to tenants’ rights websites for each state.

6. Do a Walkthrough. Walk the apartment with the landlord, look for damages and document anything you find. You’ll thank yourself later when you move out.

7. Learn the neighborhood and manage your rights and responsibilities as a renter.

8. Go beyond the basic application requirements and include pictures, references, credit reports and a short bio about yourself and whoever else may be moving in.

9. Ask about the neighborhood, noise, timeliness with repairs and any other pressing questions.

10. Research the neighborhood and consider looking for online reviews of the landlord.

While the world is holding its breath waiting to see who the next president of the United States will be, my concern focuses on the Clint Independent School District (CISD) Board of Trustees. On the same day – November 8, 2016 – that many of you will be voting for a president there will be three positions to vote for on this school board. As many of you may know, I have served on this board for the last eight years as the only member not from the Clint High School feeder pattern area. I have chosen not to seek reelection. Along with my seat there are two others up for this election. These positions are currently held by long-time board members Fred Martinez and Mary Macias.

I have been a proponent of changing the status of our District from an at-large to a single member form. As of the date of this writing, no change has been made in this status although several attempts were made. Therefore, in order to have equal representation from all areas of Montana Vista communities need to seek the District, members of the Horizon and Montana Vista need to seek and win the three seats up for election in November 2016.

What does it take to be a board member? The qualifications according to policy BBA (legal) are:

• Be a United States citizen;
• Be a resident of Texas and the district for 12 months immediately preceding the date of the regular filing deadline for a candidate’s application for a place on the ballot;
• Have not been determined by a final judgment of a court exercising probate jurisdiction to be totally mentally incapacitated or partially mentally incapacitated without the right to vote;
• Have not been finally convicted of a felony from which the person has not been pardoned or otherwise released from the resulting disabilities;
• Be a resident of Texas and the district for the period of time described by Tex. Const. Art. XVI, Sec. 14 (a person must have resided continuously in the state for six months immediately preceding the date of the regular filing deadline for a candidate’s application for a place on the ballot); and
• Be registered to vote by the date of the regular filing deadline for a candidate’s application for a place on the ballot.

However, what I think is the most important qualification is that the persons have a genuine and heartfelt concern for the educational needs and wellbeing of all the students enrolled in CISD, as well as the nearly 1,500 employees of the District.

As stated earlier, the next CISD Board of Trustees election will be held on November 8, 2016. The deadline to File Applications for Place on the Ballot is August 22, 2016. Candidate Packets can be picked up at the CISD Administrative Building located at 14521 Horizon Blvd. in Horizon City. Office Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Packets are also available on the CISD website. Go to www.clnit.net, Board of Trustees, Board Election Information, Board Member Election 2016.

Liberal seek repeal of abortion limitations

Just when you thought pro-abortion activists couldn’t get more extreme, the left is now calling for repeal of the Hyde Amendment, which bars the use of federal funds for abortions except under exigent circumstances.

“The liberals want Americans to suspend their religious beliefs to accommodate abortion under all circumstances and to be ready to pony up their tax dollars for abortions, whether they like it or not,” said Dan Weber, president of the Association of Mature American Citizens.

“Indeed, they are not willing to fund abortion only under exigent circumstances. In fact, they want to make abortion available under any circumstance. Yet the Democratic Party is thoroughly pro-life.”

Liberals are seeking to overturn the Hyde Amendment. The Hyde Amendment, he said, is constitutional because it restricts federal funding for abortions.

The Marist research also showed that almost 80 percent of those who identify as pro-choice and 44 percent of those who identify as pro-life will support the Hyde Amendment.

Weber also pointed out that while “self-identification as pro-life or pro-choice can vary widely from year to year, the support for restrictions is quite stable.”

Weber describes himself as “thoroughly pro-life” when it comes to the topic of abortion “and I believe in what mainstream America believes: that the First Amendment is inviolable. I believe that all Americans have the right to practice their religious beliefs and 36 years ago the Supreme Court upheld that right in its decision in the case of Harris v. McRae. The nine justices in that case ruled that the right to have an abortion does not include the right to force other people to pay for it through their tax dollars. The blatant decision by the leaders of the Democratic Party to include repeal of the Hyde Amendment in its 2016 Platform is an infringement of my right to remain true to my beliefs and it is an infringement on the rights of all Americans, whether pro-choice or pro-life.”

The Association of Mature American Citizens (http://www.amac.us) is a senior advocacy organization that takes its marching orders from its members. We act and speak on the rights of all Americans, whether pro-choice or pro-life.

Strange But True By Samantha Weaver

- It was English Victorian author Samuel Butler who made the following sagn observation: “Words are like money: there is nothing so useless, unless when in actual use.”
- Martha Jane Canary—better known as Calamity Jane—was a noted frontierswoman in the late 19th century. She defied expectations of women by refusing to wear dresses, becoming a scout and fighting against Indians in the West. As one contemporary commenter observed, “She swore, she drank, she wore men’s clothing. She was 50 years ahead of her time.”

Under state law, the dollar amount of school taxes imposed on the residence homestead of a person 65 years of age or older or of the surviving spouse of such a person, if the surviving spouse was 55 years of age or older when the person died, may not be increased above the amount paid in the first year after the person turned 65, regardless of changes in the tax rate or property value.

Notice of Rollback Rate: The highest tax rate the district can adopt before requiring voter approval at an election is $1.140800. This election will be automatically held if the district adopts a rate in excess of the rollback rate of 1.140800.

Alameda Avenue. We had a lady killed on that road five months ago at a bus stop in front of the neighborhood,” Montelongo said. He said that Commissioner Perez was given evidence showing the unsafe and inhumane conditions the elderly and handicap residents endure because of the poorly situated bus locations.

Plans are also to help other neighborhoods in Socorro start crime watch programs. Montelongo said, “We have to watch out for each other. It takes a lot of team work. I could never have done it on my own. The credit goes to the crime watch community and the Socorro police department’s great response time in preventing crime. We’re growing and getting training, and we are inviting guest speakers to give us crime prevention classes,” he stated.

“Initially, I thought I could start and run a crime watch program on my own; however, I was wrong. If it weren’t for my neighbors, this crime watch program would have been a failure,” Montelongo added.

The Wewoka Neighborhood Crime Watch boundaries encompass the community around Ernesto Serna Elementary School and Alejo Estates including the streets of Tanton, Middle Drain, Wewoka, Nooch, Welletka, Chisolm Trail, and Passmore.

Veterans Post  By Freddy Groves

Who pays the bill for emergency care?

The last thing you need in a medical emergency is to stop wonder who’s going to pay for it if you go to a community hospital. Unfortunately, depending on the details, it might be the veteran who pays.

Earlier this year, Dr. Baligh Yehia, a top community-care official at the Department of Veterans Affairs, testified before the House Committee on Veterans’ Affairs about the sorry, inconsistent state of the VA’s system of reimbursing for emergency medical services. One statistic: In one calendar year, 30 percent of the 2.9 million emergency-room claims were denied. This totaled $2.6 billion in medical bills that were kicked back to the veteran. Specifically:

• 98,000 claims denied because it was decided it wasn’t an emergency;
• 320,000 claims denied because it was decided another insurer should pay;
• 9,000 claims denied because they weren’t filed fast enough; and
• 140,000 claims denied because it was decided that a VA hospital was available.

Before an emergency occurs, get familiar with the specifics of who pays for what. Go online to VA.gov and search for Non-VA Emergency Care. You’ll get a long list of files. Scroll around and look for Fact Sheet 20-02. Print out some of the information and keep it in a file.

Know exactly how far you are in miles from the nearest VA hospital or emergency clinic, and whether it’s reasonable to go that far in an emergency. Know the difference between urgent and emergency care, because the VA won’t pay for urgent care.

If you go to emergency care and are later admitted, the VA might insist you be transferred to a VA hospital or they won’t pay the bills. Be clear on whether your emergency is due to service-related or non-service-related conditions.

You have 72 hours to notify the VA that you’ve gotten urgent or emergency care.

Fact Sheet 20-02 will outline all this, and more.

Miners may have a chance to find their way home

By Steve Escalera
Special to the Courier

Dorothy said it best at the end of the Wizard of Oz, when she clicked her heels together three times and uttered those soothing words, “there’s no place like home.”

Though she managed to have some memorable adventures with her new friends, she knew that no place could quite match the comforts of home. That’s pretty much the way it is in the world of sports. Every team plays better at home and every player feels a little uncomfortable away from the friendly confines. The same can be said about the UTEP Miners.

Oh, I know they tend to play better at home and struggle more on the road. But in this case I’m talking about conference affiliation. Ever since UTEP was unceremoniously shown the door out of the WAC in 2005, it has been languishing in Conference USA. Of course those schools that kicked UTEP out got together to form the new Mountain West Conference. In the WAC, the Miners felt at home tangling with familiar family members like New Mexico and BYU and Colorado State and Wyoming and Air Force and Hawaii and UNLV.

Since then, the Miners have felt more like invited guests in unfamiliar settings, taking on the likes of Florida International and Old Dominion and Middle Tennessee and North Texas and Florida Atlantic and Western Kentucky. Let’s face it – it’s hard for UTEP fans of any sport to get excited about the big UTEP-Florida Atlantic matchup.

There are no natural rivalries because El Paso fans know nothing about the teams the Miners are facing. The C-USA schools are too far away and they have the sex appeal of a KISS tribute band. And Dorothy was right – there is no place like home.

That’s why El Paso sports fans’ ears perked up when it was learned that there was a slight possibility that the Miners could find there way back home again. The thought is that the Big-12 is expanding by two, or maybe four teams. The consensus is that Houston, Cincinnati and BYU are the leading candidates to join the conference. The rumors also include UConn, Memphis, Central Florida and Colorado State.

It appears that the American Athletic Conference will be hit hard because that’s where five of those rumored schools reside. The big questions are which schools will make the move, will any Mountain West schools leave to join the Big-12 or fill in vacant slots in the AAC, and if so, will UTEP be chosen to fill any possible vacancy in the MWC?

A lot of dominoes have to fall in a certain way at a certain time for the Miners to get their wish of retuning home. But as we all saw with the birth of the El Paso Chihuahuas, things certainly can fall into place.

The whole idea of the UTEP Miners asking to be taken back by a former girlfriend that once left them for another place. But it wouldn’t be the first time two foes came to the realization that they are actually better together than apart. It’s a much better fit for UTEP geographically, it’s much better financially and it would do wonders with fan attendance. Fans don’t just want to cheer on their own team – they want to get all over a dreaded rival.

The Miners have no rivals in C-USA. To the average UTEP fan, they’re just playing a bunch of nondescript teams. The chances of UTEP changing conference depends on how many teams the Big 12 expands to.

First of all, this may boggle your mind a bit, the Big-12 consists of only 10 teams. Don’t ask. Whether the conference expands to 12 teams or even 14 is still up in the air.

Of course all the teams that transfer, the better chances for the Miners to do the same.

Reacquainting themselves with those old C-USA rivals would only be enhanced when you throw in teams like Boise State, Fresno State and San Diego State.

You’ve got to know that Tim Floyd and Sean Kugler and Keitha Adams and Bob Stull are all clicking their heels together and uttering those five special soothing words.
Dearest Dr. Roach: I am a 96-year-old woman with three diseases battling over my vitamin D count for many years. I am 59 inches tall and weigh 95 pounds. I play nine holes of golf three times a week. I have always been a poor eater, so I get little nourishment from food. I drink 3 ounces of scotch every evening with chips. That’s my nourishment. I’ve beaten lung cancer and recently had skin cancer surgery in my ear. The vitamin D situation never goes away, and the doctors keep changing my meds. One of the doctors claims that my vitamin D count is almost toxic (my blood levels of vitamin D are 121 from my rheumatologist and 145 from my internist), and I have been taken off any meds with vitamin D in them, but it’s still high. I am feeling OK now and want to forget the whole matter of the vitamin D level. Your opinion would be appreciated.—Anon.

I admire your spirit for life, even if I don’t agree with your diet.

I have seen only one case of vitamin D excess in my career. It is very rare if people are taking less than 4,000 IU of vitamin D daily, so I suspect you were taking much higher doses at some point. When I hear that multiple doctors may have been taking care of you, I worry that more than one was prescribing high doses of vitamin D. There also have been cases of manufacturing errors and excess fortification of milk, but these are quite rare.

Vitamin D is normally stored in the liver, with the fat cells becoming a second reservoir. The toxicity of vitamin D is due to high calcium levels, which can cause confusion, nausea and vomiting, and muscle weakness. Toxic levels can be treated with short-term prednisone, but that isn’t necessary unless there are symptoms or a dangerously high calcium level.

A: If you’re eligible for both your own retirement benefit and for benefits as a spouse, we will always pay you benefits based on your record first. If your benefit as a spouse is higher than your retirement benefit, you will receive a combination of benefits equaling the higher spouse’s benefits. A spouse generally receives 50 percent of the retired worker’s full benefit, unless the spouse begins collecting benefits before full retirement age. If the spouse begins collecting benefits before full retirement age, the amount of the spouse’s benefit is reduced by a percentage based on the number of months before he or she reaches full retirement age. For example, based on a full retirement age of 66, if a spouse begins collecting benefits:

- At age 65, the benefit amount would be about 40 percent of the retired worker’s full benefit.
- At age 64, it would be about 42 percent.
- At age 63, 37.5 percent; and
- At age 62, 35 percent.

However, if a spouse is taking care of a child who is either under age 16 or disabled and receives Social Security benefits on the same record, a spouse will get full benefits, regardless of age. Learn more by reading our Retirement publication at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10035.html.

seven-game championship series is moronic.

One thing is clear, however: We are moving out of the boring “on-base percentage is the best statistic there is” phase. Unless it’s Rickey Henderson, nobody spends hundreds of dollars to go see a baseball game and root, root, root for the home team to walk. Thankfully, Ned Yost and the Royals freed us from that oppression. They did this by developing a strong farm system that taught fundamentals strengthening movement, great defense, speed, and hits, backed by a lights-out bullpen. Now that’s baseball worth paying to see.

It’s been a little over 40 years since George Steinbrenner ushered in the free-agent era by signing Catfish Hunter. At this year’s trade deadline, Hal Steinbrenner’s fire sale of five veterans, the surefire impending release of a-Rod and lack of extension talk for Mark Teixeira in order to shore up an anemic farm, signaled another change: the big-trade era, perhaps?

I’m personally in favor of austerity because no matter what, a few things will never change for baseball! Good pitching beats good hitting, you can’t catch a ball hit out of the park and the team with the most runs wins.
